FROM THE DESK OF FATHER JEFF:

Happy Easter to you all! May God bless you during this Easter Season!

A question in the collection asked, "On the cross, our Lord quotes the Psalm of David #22 saying, 'Eloi, Eloi, lema sabachthani? Which is translated, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" So why did the bystanders say that Jesus was calling Elijah?

In using the Psalm, Jesus does not express the feeling that his life's work has failed and that God has therefore abandoned him; he identifies himself with a biblical precedent, the persecuted upright man who has trusted in Yahweh, and found in him the source of his consolation and ultimate triumph.

It is not easy to explain the misinterpretation of Eloi and Elijah, but the form of "my God" in Mt 27:46 (Eli, which may be more original) could more easily been understood as a shortened form of Elijah. Jerome Biblical Commentary 42:93

The parish office will be closed on Monday, April 5th for Easter Monday.

If you have a question about your Catholic Faith please fill out the bottom form and drop it in the collection basket. I will answer it in a future bulletin.

Consubstantial and Incarnate

Paul Turner

The Nicene Creed proclaims our belief in the Trinity. Among its points is that Jesus is consubstantial and incarnate. Neither of these words is common in our vocabulary, but their appearance in the creed shows how difficult it is for us humans to explain the mystery of God.

“Consubstantial” basically means “one in being”, but the word is more technical. It proclaims our belief that there is only one God, though the Godhead is manifest in more than one way. God has one nature, but three persons. Jesus existed with the Father before all ages – before he entered the world in time and place on the first Christmas Day in Bethlehem. He already existed, and he was always truly God – consubstantial with the Father.

This belief entered the creed after the Council of Nicaea in the fourth century because of a heresy spread by a man named Arius. He believed that Jesus had a beginning in time, and hence he could not share the same Godhead as the Father. This opinion did not fit with the evidence in the New Testament, so the early church condemned the thought of Arius and clarified mainstream Christian belief by proclaiming that Jesus had always shared the same nature with the Father – that he was consubstantial with the father –before and after he was born.

We also believe that Jesus became “incarnate” a word that means that Jesus as God took on the flesh of a human. He was actually born, though he lost nothing of the Godhead by doing so. If you had seen Jesus in the first century you would have seen God in flesh and bone.

These two difficult words proclaim two sides of our belief. Jesus is God, and Jesus is human – he is consubstantial and incarnate.

Prayers and history of the Church

Alleluia! Christ is Risen! Alleluia! These words of great joy announce Jesus' victory over suffering and death. We now know that Jesus is the light that the darkness cannot overcome. We will celebrate this wondrous gift of light and life today and for the next 50 days. Let us rejoice and sing Alleluia!

Gospel

John 20:3-9

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

Then Peter and the other disciple set out and went toward the tomb. The two were running together, but the other disciple outran Peter and reached the tomb first. He bent down to look in and saw the linen wrappings lying there, but he did not go in. Then Simon Peter came, followed him, and went into the tomb. He saw the linen wrappings lying there, and the cloth that had been on Jesus' head, not lying with the linen wrappings but rolled up in a place by itself. Then the other disciple, who reached the tomb first, also went in, and he saw and believed; for as yet they did not understand the scripture, that he must rise from the dead.

The Gospel of the Lord.

For reflection: Imagine how Peter and the other disciple felt when they saw that the tomb was empty. What do you think they wondered about?

Prayer:

Alleluia! Christ is risen! Alleluia!
Almighty God and Father,
We thank you that today we sing
Alleluia! Alleluia! Jesus Christ is risen!
Give us voices to proclaim the joyful news

To everyone who needs to hear it.
We ask this through the same Jesus Christ
Our Lord. Amen.

Easter Sunday

The Resurrection of the Lord

April 6, 2010

Today and throughout the Easter season, we will be reading from the Acts of the Apostles. Acts tells us the stories of what happened after Jesus' Resurrection and how people began to believe in him and to follow his way.

Reading

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

Peter said to the crowd, "Let the entire house of Israel know with certainty that God has made him both Lord and Messiah, this Jesus whom you crucified."

Now when they heard this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and to the other apostles, "Brothers, what should we do?" Peter said to them, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ so that your sin may be forgiven; and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. For the promise is for you, for all your children, and for all who are far away, everyone whom the Lord our God calls to him." So those who welcomed his message were baptized, and that day about three thousand persons were added."

The Word of the Lord.

Reflection: Easter is a good time to think about the meaning of our Baptism. At Baptism we received the light of Christ. How does that light help us to live?

Prayer:

Alleluia! Christ is risen! Alleluia!
Eternal God
Through the dying and rising of your Son,
You have freed us from sin and
Given us new life.
May we who have been baptized,
Be bearers of his light and life to our world.
We ask this through the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Yes, Lord, We do believe!

Diocesan Pilgrimage to the Basilica Shrine of the Immaculate Conception
Washington, D.C.

Saturday, April 10, 2010

For the Christian, pilgrimage is a way of life. Our life on earth is a continuing journey towards complete union with God in the kingdom. From earliest times, Christians have journeyed to defined spaces and places to practice pilgrimage as a spiritual exercise for growth in faith.

Undertaking a pilgrimage to a specific holy site, as an individual or with others, helps the Christian prepare for the journey, the high point of which is the encounter with God, through Christ, in the power of the Spirit in the midst of the church.

Pilgrimage is a transforming practice which opens us to the gift of the indulgence for ourselves and for others. It gives renewed meaning to the rites and rituals which are gifts of our faith and which serve to deepen our connection to God through Christ and to one other.

Join us for a day of prayer, reflection, reconciliation and Eucharist.
